

Make Training Easy, Efficient, Interactive, and Complete

GAP Connections Members can now take advantage of a great opportunity through a partnership with AgSafe to train workers directly on the farm. AgSafe is the educational leader for the food and farming industries in supporting their commitment to a healthy and safe workforce. Since its formation in 1991, AgSafe has educated over 45,000 employers, supervisors, and workers about the safety, health, labor relations/human resources, and food safety issues impacting this industry.

Trainers are bilingual, bicultural and very experienced in dealing with all types of operations: single-crop, multi-crop, large, small, and everything in between. Various training options are available to best suit your farm and workforce.

Have a small workforce? Ask your neighbors if they want to join your on-farm training with their workforce. AgSafe will train up to 50 workers at each event. Additional workers can be accommodated but cost may increase. All participating growers must be GAP Connections Members.

The AgSafe Education Team

The AgSafe Education Team is made up of men and women who grew up in the farming industry. Their families include migrant laborers, farm supervisors, equipment operators and irrigators. Each has personal childhood experiences working on a farm, either for their family's business or for a farm labor contractor. All have gone on to pursue formal higher education and subsequently come back to farming. Each team member has experience working as an occupational safety, human resources/labor relations and/or food safety professional.
