FarmLogic: You Asked and We Listened

Good record keeping is a vital part of every farming operation. Because you are a tobacco grower, it is especially important. FarmLogic is listening when you say that record keeping and compliance reporting needs to be simpler. So, here's one solution for that...well, here's an App for that.

FarmLogic is a web-based and mobile record keeping system. It helps you keep good farming records and produce compliance reports with the click of a mouse. Tap in your information from a mobile device in the field, or desktop computer in the office. Your records are securely backed up and safe, eliminating the risk of losing papers and searching for files. Records and reports are easy to edit and preview before sending so you maintain full control of your information. Your production records are in your pocket.

With FarmLogic, record keeping is now easier than ever. You can spend more time in the field and less time on paperwork. Your information is in your hands, when and where you need it. Anytime you have a question, our outstanding customer service team is available to you, 24/7. Just give us a call.

GAP Connections and FarmLogic are working together to create electronic reports that will ensure that growers using FarmLogic are recording the necessary data needed for GAP compliance and offering it at discount to GAP Connections' grower members. The FarmLogic system retail price is $1,999, FarmLogic is priced at $1,499 for GAP Connections' grower members and $1,250 for GAP Connections' Premium Grower Members (up to a $750 discount). To learn more about the Premium Membership contact GAP Connections or visit their website www.gapconnections.com.
